

Fernbrook Farms Environmental Education Center 2019 Spring Upper Level Homeschool Semester

Ages 12-14 Years Old (students must be 12 years old by the start of classes)

Class Session: Tuesdays 9:30am-11:30am, Tuesdays 1:30pm-3:30pm,
Thursdays 9:30am-11:30am or Thursdays 1:30pm-3:30pm

Animal Science and Agriculture

We are offering a new series of classes for the Upper Level Homeschool students for this Spring Semester. The students will be investigating topics in “Animal Science and Agriculture”. Throughout the semester, every other class the students will participate in “field trips” to several farms within a 5-30 minute drive of Fernbrook. The goal is to learn about that farms operation and see what is involved in the daily maintenance and care of the farm and the animals that live there. There will also be a chance to participate in a Q&A session with the farmer to gain a better understanding of the products that are being produced and understand the business side of farming.

Ms. Patty Gurgul

Introduction to Agriculture

March 26th or 28th

During this first class, we will be looking at some essential questions, such as: Where do our food and products come from, farm or factory? What makes for a good domesticated farm animal and why don't we domesticate zebras? Do the baby animals learn from their parents?

Field Trip: Windy Farm Alpacas (Tentative)

April 2nd or 4th

Trip to Windy Farm Alpacas. To learn from Ms. Jackie about her alpaca herd, yarn & fiber, daily animal chores, and her breeding techniques. The farm is located on White Pine Rd in Chesterfield. Visit their website www.windyfarmalpacas.com (Products will be available to purchase)

Fibers and Weaving

April 9th or 11th

We will be looking at natural versus synthetic fibers as well as renewable vs nonrenewable resources during this class. Students will have an opportunity to look at different types of fibers, how they are processed and work on a weaving of their own.

Veterinarian Visit to Fernbrook (Tentative)

April 16th or 18th

A local veterinarian and vet tech will be visiting the farm during this class to help us learn about the daily care, preventive medicine and treatment of diseases for Fernbrook's farm animals. We will also be learning about careers related to agriculture.

Farming, Food and Heredity

April 23rd or 25th

We will be looking at natural selection vs artificial selection in this class. Why would farmers want to selectively breed certain animals and how would they do it. We will also be preparing for our next class by learning a bit about bees, honey and flowers.

Field Trip: Birds and Bees Farm (Tentative)

April 30th or May 2nd

Trip to Birds and Bees Farm which is a family owned apiary, working 82 hives in Burlington, Monmouth, and Ocean Counties. Students will be learning about the bee operations at the farm and the services that they provide. Visit their website www.birdsandbeesfarm.com (Products will be available to purchase.)

Fernbrook Farms Environmental Education Center 2019 Spring Upper Level Homeschool Semester

Food Safety and Hygiene

May 7th or 9th

During the last on-farm class the students be learning about keeping our food products safe to eat and we will be making cheese during this class. The class will also explore a variety of different digestive systems of livestock and finding out what's in the food we all eat?

Field Trip: Cherry Grove Farm (Tentative) May 14th or 16th

Trip to Cherry Grove Farm in Lawrenceville. The tour will include information on sustainable farming, milkers and the dairy barn, what it means to be farmstead cheese-makers, humane animal husbandry, care for the watershed, and managing a balanced ecosystem. Visit their website www.cherrygrovefarm.com (Products will be available for purchase.)
